Thread: Grail of Affection - not just a boy toy...

NuTrix - May 7, 2015, 1:20 pm

I purchased GoA after John replied to let me know there wasn't anything in there that I needed to be concerned about if I wanted to trail it. My interest is mainly on how it will effect women but if it works out that it's a positive influence on my SO too, then more power to it!

GoA arrived sometime Sat. Didn't get it until late that night. I tested Sun and Monday.

Sun:

Targets: Man Beast and general public

MB was unusually sweet and thoughtful and laid back.

When we arrived at one of our destinations, while we were standing in line to purchase tickets a woman picked me out of the line up and asked if I wanted a free ticket - she didn't want to sell it to me, her group had gotten 1 that they didn't think would be used and just wanted to give it to me THAT was very nice indeed! there were dozens of other people around so why me? Who knows ^_~

I think it had a calming effect on MB because the normal little things that usually irk him (like the human race in general) didn't bother him like on most occasions. He was just in the moment enjoying his surroundings.

It was an all around good day and it continued even after we were home. We just had a very happy/friendly day for of cuddles and sweetness. He was unusually "fascinated" by me - my eyes, my face, my smile - I wasn't expecting this to effect him as strongly as it did, as I thought it was going to be mainly something I would wear for the ladies, but this is a great start!

Selfies: Happy, not giddy, kind of laid back feeling and reciprocal to affection sent my way.

Mon:

Targets: Random co-workers

OMG. This is where I got to see the effect on the ladies. I have a playmate at work and when we see each other it always brightens our day. When I saw her Mon and went for my usual hugs n snuggles I got a kiss on the lips followed by lots of butterfly kisses - something we've not done AT work before When I was in another department another woman I see often was immediately in conversation mode when she saw me. Just wanted to chat me up, very focused on me - she was sitting and turned her entire chair toward me to fully engage me - and I know she was busy and had things that need to get done, but they were all put on temporary hold just to chat with me

Even my work BFF was really into me.

The guys in my dept. were their normal sweet friendly selves the supervisor above me even spent time chatting me up. Seemed very keen to know how I was doing, work and home, and "how are things?"

Selfies: Same as above

The odd thing that I did not expect was how quickly this seemed to effect people. Some blends hit almost instantly for really receptive people, this seems to be one of those.

Other product honorable mentions:

What a HUGE bottle! This will last FOREVER at a handful of drops a wear

It isn't a stinky product. I got it unscented and it is barely perceptible to me during dry down. I can smell it, but it's not a "stinker". I will likely scent it lightly with a layerable fragrance like Pure Sugar, but it doesn't really need anything - probably not even a cover if you wanted to go au naturel...

I was sent a sample of Eileah, which leaked a bit but was not terribly stinky either, lol, haven't tested that yet - thank you John!

I'm thinking I will wear this again today. There is a female target I want to trial it out on just to see how it effects her specifically. She's not a romantic interest, just want to see how it behaves on someone who is only beginning to get to know me.

So far - over all - so good
More to come....

ETA - almost forgot an important bit of info - 3 drops was the dose I used for each day.

Snoopyace - May 7, 2015, 2:13 pm

That is FANTASTIC! I'm glad it seems to be working as well for you as it has for a few of us guys who've tried it. It would appear that John has created a home run unisex product. Every time I wear this, I am amazed at how quickly it affects people. At first I thought it was my imagination but it is great to see that confirmed. Sounds like you are going to have some fun times with this one. Oh and be mindful, this stuff can create stalkers- I've had women now following me around and contacting me behind my bride's back after they were exposed to GOA.

Happy Hunting!

NuTrix - May 8, 2015, 1:42 pm

Yes! I thought I was imagining how quickly it hit too - the excitement of trying out a new product - did that really just happen? Would they have done that any other time? Of course the answer is always - Yes, maybe they would have...but you get to knowing when you have that extra something to give that little "push" in your direction. It does seem to lower the inhibition level and I can see THIS has incredible potential. Even the straight girls love me

3 drops, inside elbows - covered with the scent of freshly baked sugar cookies with cinnamon and cream - who wouldn't love something so gourmand?!

Environment: Work

Targets: Random Co-workers

Curiosities - effects on men and women

WELL. The new girl actually seems start struck by me, lol.

Now, to be fair, I'm already an outgoing person who is usually happy (even when busy), I treat people like family unless they give me a reason to do otherwise and I think that's a real draw for a lot of people even w/o pheromones. I know my stuff and I do a good job and it shows. People aren't often drawn to slackers and pretenders so I already have some good things going for me beside pheromones.

Specific target - new trainee - totally straight to my knowledge:

Now the new girl is usually out going and straight forward, she's a good bit older than me, and I also believe, more experienced in this field than what I am due to the number of years she's been working at other companies. In spite of the generational thing, she thinks I'm "a peach", Hahaha!

Maybe I shouldn't have GoA'd her because she seemed very much in awe of me. Yesterday went very well though, she was incredibly intent on our training and on doing well and taking notes. At the end of the night she kept thanking me and praising me as a person and a trainer. GoA took it over the top a bit I'm sure.

Randoms:

2 night shift girls - both straight - were all giggles and compliments when they came in. The younger (early 20s) I swear gave me moon eyes half a dozen times and smiled HUGELY whenever we engaged in conversation that required eye contact, the other (50s something?) was just plain giddy, lol.

2 ladies in a completely different department - 1 I see often, the other was new, both in their 40s-50s? - I am SO bad with age...the new one was hit right away - hovering near me and staring at me wide eyed. I almost feel bad wearing this at work...almost...

Male co-workers - seemed, hmm, sweeter? softer? thoughtful? It's not that they aren't these things normally but it just seemed like if I needed something, they either jumped right on the task or they were being pro-active by coming to me to see what needed to be done without my asking.

Tbh, I was mostly paying attention to what female reactions were and will have to pay better attention to the guys next time. There is 1 I'm curious about who is usually reserved and I'm curious - with how quickly GoA seems to hit - if this will draw him out of his shell??? But our time is limited as he works on the shift following mine.

I did have one male co-worker on a different shift go sweet on me so I will need to be careful with THAT one. Don't know if I can blame GoA for that though - I don't want too many stalkers! Thanks for the heads up Snoopyace ^_~

I wish I had more opportunity to test nights out, but our work schedule is loaded and I may not see that opportunity for a while as I work nights. My poor unsuspecting co-workers will have to do for now

Snoopyace - May 8, 2015, 1:55 pm

Glad you are having as much fun with this as the rest of us are. And you answered a question I'd asked in your journal. The hits are super fast for this!

Cornfed - May 8, 2015, 4:35 pm

The more I read about this, the more I can't wait to have it! I swear, I'm going to wear out their servers with how often I check my order status.

JaGenau - May 8, 2015, 4:37 pm

Great reporting NuTriX. Reminds me I have to make a GOA report myself.

I'm glad you are also seeing what us guys are seeing from GOA. The hits are fast and obvious. The self effects are amazing. I love GOA. I'd guess that there is p83 (whatever p83 is) in GOA due to the dis-inhibiting thing too. I also get a bit of sex talk too, which seemed to be a staple of p83.

NuTriX - May 10, 2015, 11:54 am

Hmm...

Selfies - just me being me:

This is interesting to me because I don't get anything terribly blatant buuuut...I do get the elevation in mood. Nothing jittery or crazy, just happy. I have noticed more empathetic behaviors in myself. More likely to go out of my own way to do a little something extra for someone as a nice surprise - don't we need more of that in the world? I also have a love of most things sexually suggestive and when I'm enjoying certain artist's music I feel very slinking and have had my naughty imaginings run away with me at times...but that's not terribly out of the norm. I become "miss social butterfly" out and about with friends, family and co-workers and have been more likely to initiate interactions with all of the afore mentioned.

Work - behavior I've noticed on the job:

I notice when things get hectic at work (happens often) that, even though I keep an even keel, I am more quick to catch the tension early on and let it go. It's often a high paced, reactive environment and you have to be quick, decisive and forward thinking to how what you're doing now will impact things down the road - if your head isn't level, a knee jerk reaction could lead to errors or investigations. This product doesn't "chill" me out, but when things have gotten intense I just noticed I - what? - compartmentalize? - a bit more quickly. An unusual but beneficial effect for sure!

I'm always looking for products that are versatile for work and play as I spend a great deal of time doing both

I've got a lot of big changes going on in my personal life right now too that are making things particularly interesting. Very curious little product with LOTS of potential...let's see how far down the rabbit hole goes...

Hi Beautiful!

I got the unscented. It has a barely there scent of mones while wet and dries down to next to nothing. VERY easy to cover and I haven't had any bleed through with anything I've used to cover over time.

Oh! Also, I couldn't find anything regarding credit card and shipping discretion on their site. I'm wary of having "Pheromone Treasures" showing on the package and my cc bill since my mail goes to my Lol funny funny.

But in all seriousness, every order is shipped discretely, there is no mention of pheromones or anything on the outside of the package. The senders name is "PT" and the transaction on your cc statement will be from "P. Treas"

(05-15-2015 4:33 PM)halo0073 Wrote: NuTrix how do you feel Grail differs from Perfect Match?

Why, I'm glad you ask! This comparison is one of the reasons I scooped up GoA...

Without knowing what's in it for sure, I would take a stab and say 2 things I notice are that
- it's less soul-bonding type intimate, maybe GoA has less b-nol and/or less androstadienone?
- it hits that "falling for you" harder than PM

PM is anywhere, everyday really natural feeling "comfortable" where GoA is that but in a negligee

PM is, more, calm? Chill? Relaxed? Maybe GoA has a generous portion of DHEA, DHEAS or preg even? Something really brings out the moon eyes and fawning. A-nol is a given, but in what ratio? ldk.

In close quarters, it's been the difference between cuddling (PM) and heavy petting (GoA)...You can really lead up to all of these things with PM, it just seems to be that GoA gets you there faster.

It hits very quickly, so much so in fact that I thought I was imagining it until I'd worn it quite a number of times to be certain.

I haven't combined it with anything except the addition of a fragrance and cops and I've been reaching for it an awful lot since I received it

I wear the PM in spray mainly and GoA came in oil and I haven't made any into a spray and even though it's in oil it hits very fast. Not that PM is soooo slow, lol, I give it 10-15 minutes of contact to see notable changes. GoA is just about instantaneous, VERY curious...

Both make me feel more empathetic of others while wearing them. I'm effected more personally by the b-nol and androstadienone in PM in that I'm calmer and more likely to indulge in heart to heart convos with others. I think PM is great for interviewing people for this reason...gets them to open up and spill more info.

Not that GoA is manic in an way, but PM is calmer to me. I actually WANTED GoA because I was interested in the "PM like" qualities. For home, PM is deeper and closer for me and my guy, brings out the heart to hearts and "real" conversations and closeness. For something a little lighter and fun GoA is the one I grab for now. It actually makes a better social solo just because it keeps things lighter, though a bit of Topper will do that for PM too.

Hope this helps

NuTrix - May 21, 2015, 1:24 pm

Heey85 - It's hard to rein it in when you get good products - but try! It's incredibly more rewarding when you have a really good understanding for how a product works for YOU on it's own first God bless ADHD - we've ALL cheated and gotten ahead of ourselves - at least starting out. It's so exciting it's damn near impossible not to. But listen to the guys and your patience WILL be rewarded.

Was pushing paper around last night with a group of women I don't usually get to spend a lot of time with - mid 20s and a 40 something.

3 drops GoA, inner elbows and between boobs - and I had already had it on for a good 6 hours so maybe the shine was just me? I will say GoA though because it's oil based and has lasted through my entire shift and then some before...

The white girl, 20s, was hit instantly big moon eyes, giggling and smiles - damn she's a lil' cutie. The Puerto Rican girl, also 20s, is always more reserved and shy and always speaks softly, when she laughs she's very girly and hides her head a little. She's getting re-assigned and won't be working with our company after today. When I gave her a hug good bye she completely surprised me by the hug I was returned just because she is usually so reserved and quiet. The 40 something, also white, was almost silly happy - too much caffeine? We actually got quite a good bit done, but there was a lot of laughing and playfulness going on too...happy workers....

GoA is becoming a staple - glad it comes in such a big bottle...

NuTrix - May 29, 2015, 11:14 am

True! I suppose it depends on what you are using the "toy" for. While it works great socially, I like that extra little something it gives for girl/girl interactions

I like LP Teddy BB for adding that warm fuzzy feeling too - another "men's blend".

GoA is pretty versatile socially and it hits F.A.S.T. - like - supah fast. I still need to get my guy to trial this on me

I LURV WMs effect on me! Glad to know you're enjoying it too ^_~

Cornfed - May 29, 2015, 11:43 am

Sorry to jump off the GOA topic, NuTriX, but since you brought up Love Potion, how are you dosing it? I bought a sampler pack and the stuff is so potent I barely want to use any because I smell it so intensely for hours. I'm kinda worried that I'm using so little because the fragrance is so strong that I'm not getting much in the way of mones at all.

NuTriX - June 1, 2015, 1:00 pm

Which are you referring to Cornfed? Well...actually, that may not much matter now that I think of it. My guy doesn't have anything yet in Unscented.

He has everything in sprays and the norm for him is (what I call) a meager 2-3 sprays - because he wants to smell good, not like a walking cologne factory...

Normally he'll spray 2 directly to his bare chest (and sometimes they are only half sprays) and then one to his shirt, so the average is probably only approx. 2 full sprays most days. It has never been ineffective even at "only" 2 sprays. So even though the scented colognes are supposedly only 1/3 the strength of an Un, they are still VERY effective, imho

Cornfed - June 1, 2015, 3:49 pm

Have you tried any oils? I have one spray, and a handful of oils that are fragrance/mone blends. From what you're saying though, I'm drawing the conclusion that if it smells good without being overkill, there's a fair amount of mones present. I haven't tried any of the ones they sent me with mones in them yet, just loving the fragrances at this point.

NuTriX - June 2, 2015, 1:28 pm

I get most things from LP in oil for myself. He prefers the sprays and is a creature of habit so change doesn't come quickly for him and oils seem "foreign" to him and weird

If you have a dropper - 1 drop of oil = 1 spray

I like that the Pheromone Treasure oils come with the euro dropper tops. You can purchase them on sites like amazon.com and decant your oils into them or take your chances eyeballing too.

Apologies for being AWOL! I've been in a fantastic flux, but it's kept me out of my regular phero reporting routine

One of the things I like about this is that it hits quickly. I've found that if a fella is already friendly with me, it increases the kindness and flattery they would already normally offer. There seems to be some imprinting, guys or girls It's light as a social - I'm thinking of my comparison of PM, as the depth of conversation stays lighter, not as deep as the PM can bring about. Friend zone kind of thing with most guys though. Not what I would wear to get a man, but if you'd be hanging out with male friends? Yes! Definitely! It's an easy feeling pheromone blend. I HAVE had guys stare at me without explanation and they do afford me affectionate behavior, but nothing sexual at all - without a little help from some added Est & cops... ^_~

I wouldn't mind having stalkers. In fact, I love stalkers. The more I have stalkers, the happier I am. I very much welcome women stalkers.

I used to get stalkers in my early and mid 20s. Now that I'm not active in workforce and not so active in college environment, I'm not getting any stalkers.

Thanks in advanced.

My short answer- both. I have to be very careful when I wear GOA around my bride's friends because they are all very smitten with me. To the point that a few started texting me directly instead of my bride and when we'd all go out in groups, I had all of them hanging on me. My bride actually was getting jealous.

The women I didn't know before I meet at various workshops I attend or even at the store. I'm also a very social guy so that does help.

Yep, I'm for sure buying GOA. I want random women to open me up with romantic interest and stalk me all they want. Plus, PT seems like a legit company with easy to use products and descriptions.

Put on 2 drops of this earlier in the AM today because my bride is off work and she's on the last two weeks of her cycle. I forgot that we'd both booked chiropractic appointments this morning with our female chiropractor/acupuncturist. This could be interesting.

At first I thought it was my imagination but it is great to see that confirmed. Sounds like you are going to have some fun times with this one. Oh and be mindful, this stuff can create stalkers- I've had women now following me around and contacting me behind my bride's back after they were exposed to GOA.

Happy Hunting!

Was this GOA solo or with another product? I'm assuming you were wearing AT or something alongside GOA to get that reaction.

I wanted to come back and report but this was the first chance I had. I love days when the phero stars just line up. I get acupuncture as well as an adjustment while I'm there. People can say what they want about acupuncture and chiropractors being pseudoscience but for me the proof is in the validation. I feel like a $100 when I leave there. Oh, and my insurance covers both procedures.

So anyhow, I was right. The chiropractor is an extremely fit suicide blond (dyed by her own hand) who is 43, fair skinned Caucasian woman who is normally more businesslike in her demeanor. She has a VERY busy practice so doesn't have time for small talk that isn't related to why you are there to see her. My bride goes to this woman as well and we and others have observed this behavior from her when she's working.

GOA hits very quickly in my experience and I could see the Doc's eyes dilate when she hit my phero cloud. No exaggeration. I see this a lot with GOA. She immediately starts asking how I'm doing, how my bride is and how things are between us. Out of the ordinary. Normally, I take my shirt off and lay down on a massage table, face down and she starts turning me into a human pin cushion. Yesterday, she says, "let's get down to business big fella!" She then grabbed my shirt and took it off me. Then realized what she did and said. She immediately turned BRIGHT red in a way that only those of us who are extremely pale can.

I was kind of shocked but made sure she understood it didn't bother me. She kept apologizing and saying how she's always just felt very comfortable around me and for some reason my pheromones were really making her feel comfortable and happy around me. (I didn't say a WORD about wearing artificial pheromones and she just chalked it up to my natural scent). Then she's fanning herself and asking me in a joking way if it was hot in there.

After we spent about 10 extra minutes laughing about the situation and she regained her composure, she poked me up and down and left the room for 20 minutes while the needles did their thing. When she came back in, I noticed she was a bit more touchy when she was removing the needles. After she'd gotten them all (I had 110 in me yesterday) she rubbed my back for a second to make sure that my skin wasn't irritated from all the punctures. At least that is what she said. She beelined for the door and I got dressed and headed for the reception area. I am not a fan of the receptionist for this Dr. I feel that she's normally condescending and about as intelligent as a toaster oven. Today, she was extra nice and oh so cheerful with me. She was also very talkative even if the conversation was about the weather and the World Series that started last night. Also not ordinary.

I'm honestly hoping I didn't make things too awkward with my Chiro because she's very good at what she does and to be honest, she's really easy on the eyes.

Anyone with any PT products in either Drakkar or Musk Cybilla scent? I'm wondering if it's the Drakkar Noir that it's replicating. Would like to know what Musk Cybilla smells like too, perhaps someone that has it can compare it to a commercial scent if that helps.

It's not dead on and the cover doesn't last too long but it's ok.

I like to spray my Drakkar first, let it dry, then apply the mones (Drakkar scented) over that.

Some here apply cover scent, let it dry, then apply mones over the cover area.

Some do as above but apply mones near cover app points.

I don't have GOA, am only sensitive to certain brands of Androstadienone (LAL is one of them), and would like to hear about what happens if you try two drops.

HvyEqpDrvr - May 30, 2017, 2:41 am

Just my experience with GOA. When I first started running it, I applied behind the ears and got splitting headaches, but no depression. Moved the app point to wrists and pressed on. I think my body just needed to get accustom to this new product. Now I don't have any sensitivity to it when applied behind the ears.

I've been anywhere between 1 and 5 drops at various points depending if in combo or solo. My journal has more info, but don't give up on it due to initial headaches. Mine went away with continued use and acclimatization.

Hope this helps.

I tried GOA last night. Location: Gay/lesbian club. Results: I've got the phone number of a French guy for a future apÃ©ro, was treated like a star by another one who was also reeeeeeally chatty.. aand was told by another woman that I'm a 'very beautiful woman'.

Other things I noticed was lots of stares, smiles and women wanting to get closer. Not too bad, considering Germans are quite reserved(my experience)and definitely not going to compliment you every now and then! It however didn't stop my friend from taking advantage of the loud music to get very close to me to talk into my ear. So close that her girlfriend told her that we should stop talking and try to integrate a bit more..that just after interrupting our conversation by kissing her passionately, a bit like to mark her territory! haha I loved it!!

GOA is definitely a lot of fun! I've been using it quite often lately. It seems to calm my boss down a bit more: He's PMSing quite often. And it works like a charm when it comes to women. Since i've been wearing GOA, my 'straight' female classmate seems to talk to me quite often about sex and how she's longing for it. She even told me about her dildos.

I'm going to use it again tonight: Lesbian party. Let's see how it goes!

Thank you

So, i usually do 3 drops only. 1 drop inside left elbow, then i rub it with my right wrist. Another one inside right elbow, rub with left wrist. And third one goes at the back of the neck and slightly above hair line applied with wrists. Any excess goes on forearms. That seems to do the trick for me ;)

UPDATE: Went to that party yesterday and didn't notice much reactions from the ladies. Maybe just the one i met for the first time, who pulled me very close towards her to 'let the people pass'(there was enough space). I was dancing the whole time and when she pulled me to her I was of course rubbing against her haha She didn't seem to mind.

Big reaction from a gay guy however, who gave me his visit card and told me that i should totally model for him.

Today, I'm thinking about combining GOA with CP Lovepotion, for a slightly more sexual touch maybe? Not sure about what it'll do..

ducklingswan - July 19, 2017, 11:20 pm

Same here too, I rarely run combos now.

I took a few weeks off of pheromones, but now after restarting, I'm glad to see the effects are more noticeable. They are similar to my previous experiences, but this time around, I can see the cues easier than before.

Today, at an optometrist office, I was interacting with the male/female staff and they were more inclined to strike up a casual conversation. Although most of the effects were immediate, it took about another 4-5 minutes of close exposure (standing at the reception desk) to see the sudden happiness of all the staff there. A lot of giggles and smiles not usually seen in an optometrist office. One of the female staff leaned in my ear and whispered me her phone number.

The staff was more inclined to joke around. Now moving on to the optometrist, he was literally talking about his family and other personal details after he finished my eye examination. GOA broke down the walls and made it easier to communicate. Surprisingly, he gave me a bear hug. Usually, he is very reserved.

Side note: I have been seeing this optometrist for 5+ years. However, he had new group of staff so this was the first interaction with his staff.

There are many many deeper explanations for this, but a simple one is this:

We don't respect sluts. For men, we don't respect women who put out quickly. For women, they don't respect men who commit easily. This is because these are demonstrations of low value.

Barefoot is correct

Women appreciate NOTHING.

A guy that gives away emotion too easily is the male equivalent of a slut.

55M newbie here. I tried out the GOA that I received in the mail yesterday. I am a Caucasian. I put on 3 drops. Wrist, elbow and neck. My GOA is unscented. I used Spicebomb as a cover scent.

At my wife's request I had to deliver some books to a very attractive 40 yr old White female who is married. I knocked on the door to deliver the books. It had just started raining lightly 5 minutes early. As I gave her the books she suggested I step in for a moment to get out of the rain. I was under the eave of the roof and not getting wet!!! I accepted her invitation. I did not close the door all the way so as to give a signal I was not staying very long or planning to come in any further to the house. Her dog ran outside through the open door and into the rain. I thought that might happen but I was keeping that door open and was willing to apologize on the spot rather than close it. Total silence..... Strange, I thought but no apology needed so that was fine..... She was in my cloud and I knew it. She started throwing body language unconsciously. I always look women in the eye when I talk with them and I have a reassuring smile. While I was talking she started playing with her hair. She then asked me a question that I had to think about for a second. I did one of those pauses where you look up toward the ceiling while stroking my 10 day "beard". When I looked back at her she was staring at me. What was more surprising is that she had put some of her long dark brown hair into her mouth and was slowly pulling it across her lips!!!! It was like she was in a trance. She caught me looking at her mouth and quickly let her hair go as I answered the question. I have never seen a woman do that in my presence before.

I thought to myself "That was fun, now it is time to get the heck out of Dodge!!" I quickly ended the conversation and left.

I can understand your skepticism. Let me fill in a few more details.

This woman in question is a very nice human being. My family and hers have been friends for years. Our families interact several times a week. I was planning on testing GOA that day and already had it on. My original plans that day was to run errands. Right before I was leaving is when my wife asked me to drop off the books. I suggested dropping them off at a neutral location. Wife tells me to just go to the house. I was afraid something like the above scenario might happen. I was mentally prepared however.

What I want to get across is that I am not a "typical" mone user, whatever that means. Men, we respond to looks, we all know that. Women??? Everyone says they are so complicated. Not true. There is a reason they have to always be in a relationship. As you guys know, they need us more than we need them.

Over the last 2 weeks I have witnessed with my own eyes how pheromones affect the female physiology. I believe they hit them like a ton of bricks. I can see how a man could get into a lot of "trouble" if he was so inclined.

I purposely did not pick a "sexual" mone. Thank goodness for that in my case!!!! I will be more careful in the future about who I wear mones' around! I may in fact stop using them altogether...but not just yet.

Now, did I tell you the story about the college girl at the Dutch Bros drive through?? Ya know, when I went to get a coffee right after I dropped the books off...

Snoopyace - September 15, 2017, 4:25 pm

Just a heads up, pheromones like GOA can cause quite a bit of comfort which to a lot of women translates to attraction and sexual interest. Not 'sexual' in what we think of as the traditional sense of the word but it really can be very sexual.

Adding on to Snoopyace's post, even if you rarely or don't interact with women that you see at a daily basis, GOA will cause lot of women to develop crushy feelings for you. For example, if you sit next to women week after week, she will translate it to attraction and sexual interest.

i.e. this refers to work, school, or places where you see the same people

I realize this might be a new question, apologies if so. I'm receiving this product (hopefully) by Monday and will Journal my results.

Thanks.

A lot of people put the cover scent over the top but I prefer to apply the cover then the photos.

Am with Snoopy on this one. I prefer Cover first and then mones on top of the cover as well. But it's different to different people.
