Thread: High Status and One Night Stands

metaltree - September 14, 2016, 4:00 am

This post is just speculation and not about any specific product. For a while I had it in my head that pheromone products that are high status are good for having sex with a girl the night you meet her.

Now I speculate that a little bit status is good for a ONS but I'm wondering if too much status will be counter productive. The reason for this is that if the woman thinks you are too good to waste on a one night stand she may put you in the future boyfriend category and wait a few dates before sex.

Anyone have thoughts or opinions on this topic? (Note that I am being very general and non specific on purpose. I just want to see if this topic is interesting to anyone.)

Point 5. Men Drop Their Standards, While Women Raise Them

I think sometimes chicks go out dead set on a one night stand and want the best experience they can get.

Never underestimate the self-entitlement of even the lowliest fatty in "da club". Even dumpy women in their late 30s believe they deserve their very own Mr Christian Grey.

You only really have to worry about falling into the provider frame when you are dating.

As interesting as these thoughts may be, I don't see it as being practical. Most women I engage with, "just friends" or otherwise, don't seem to put that much thought into it. It's all feelings. One girl would rant and rave how terrible the guy she is with is and how he ignores her and treats her bad, but she just kept on being with him and still is. I'm sure many of you have seen the same things.

I don't see women as being that involved when it comes to making their own decisions, actually. Most women seem to just "go with the flow" and if you're saying the right things at the right time, they seem to just eat it up. I find the chase is the most important part. The hardest part is making a chase in one night to get me in the sack with her.

Pheromones only play a small part in the interaction. They signal to the woman that you are healthy, strong, virile....ect. Women use these signals to make selections. Is she looking for a one night stand. is she married? Is she looking for a partner? Does she want to have children? Does she want to settle down?

I think that Androsterone which is used in many (all?) alpha blends is a pheromone that encourages respect from women. While women do like alpha males, those who do tend to be more thoughtful than the Androstenone loving women.

I think that Alpha men are wanted by some but not by all women. Some women would rather be the boss. They pretend submission and the next thing you know you are married and have a "honey do" list in your hand.

It's too complex a world and a question for a yes or no answer. Women are all different and have different desires. A woman may love the respect vibe that Androsterone gives and sleep with you because she is into the alpha vibe. Another woman may not even approach you because of the Androsterone and still another may want you but only after dating and courtship rituals are complete.

If you're looking for a ons, then there's a word for women who want you to wait for sex.....

It is interesting because for many years I fell into that trap of "you are husband material". In fact is really messed with my pre-mone game. Because frankly I was a hedonistic slut out for a variety of pleasures. Still am but a bit more refined. And every encounter turned into a future date which turned into a future "hung up on me" situation. Bummer.

None heavy products where my salvation (for me it was New Pheromone Additive and P10 and Passion/Primal/Androstenone Pheromone Concentrate - can't remember so long ago). It Simply attracts women who are ready to go - they are primal.

And this is good because having a lot of partners gets super complicated... scheduling. I've dated 3 women at the same time and that is plenty. No time for anything else. Scheduling is a pain. No self time etc. So yeah, I kind of agree that I want to project a sexual scent more than a status if you are looking for NSA and PSEs.

The exception is when you are out to find a high quality relationship. So if you are having a tinder-roll or hanging out at the coffee shop on campus late at night save the status. If you are looking for a mate, play it up. I agree with your thoughts.

One thing I just love about high none/sexual mixes is that they also give you a pretty good bead on the 4 week cycle. So does tinder. When you are getting those calls, chances are they are near peak. Put that on your calendar and circle back in 3-4 weeks.... works if you want to stack encounters up timewise. I've known guys who do that. Just say they were "jogging" in the neighborhood, show up all sweaty every 21-28 days. Wham bam gone.

if you want quality relationships, I agree with Paradox, it goes way beyond the mones unless you get a god hit with something magical. Otherwise, yeah stick to the sexuals.

The interesting situation is what I call the "bitch target" - maybe someone you don't really like but really want to "do". In that situation I've attempted all sorts of schemes and status seems to be a big factor.

ScentHound - September 16, 2016, 8:43 am

I've been wondering if it is possible to have the best of both worlds.. as in creating a mix which is BOTH extremely high-status as well as highly sexual.

So far in my experimentation I have come to the conclusion that Androsterone-based high status alpha mixes really need some kind of 'integrator molecule(s)' in order to combine properly with None-based sexual mixes.

DHEAS seems to do this very well, however, all fallout properties of the status-mones are lost with DHEAS.

So currently I'm experimenting with epi-androsterone and iso-e super to 'bind' high-Androsterone and high-None mixes properly together. P96 is also an obvious candidate here.

But I can't say wether or not this is even doable yet.

There have been good reports claiming that, but also reports to the contrary. I've experimented a lot recently with DHEA-S and I increasingly doubt it's fallout-killing attribute.

You're right though that even low doses of DHEA-S have a place in mixes oncluding Androsterone and none.

That's very interesting. Perhaps there is some sort of 'threshold level' at which the DHEAS works without interfering with fallout? As in under a certain level, it erases fallout, above this level it helps it again?

I have only added it in very small amounts to a status/sexual/bonding mix that I have tested quite extensively and that I know works in the fallout department, but with the slight addition of DHEAS it's like 'anti-fallout'.. the girls exposed seem to forget about me completely when we part company.

Very strange.

Quite plausible, yes.

I've found that whilst it can be difficult to develop a fallout on DHEAS products, they will usually maintain an established fallout with few if any problems, even over quite long periods. So the introduction of DHEAS is at least not diminishing the effect. DHEAS is also much less of a problem where Androstadienone crushiness is involved.

On status and ONS - I've usually found that very low-status/flaky/problematic girls can put-out on a pretty smart basis when faced with a high status/sexual mix but in the case of more stable/better quality women - that's when they tend to view you as "relationship material" or look for you to prove your status over a bit of time in other ways.

Not that ultimate status matters one whit if all you want is an ONS with the woman IMO. You use the mix that suits you best for the purpose!

Well, Hello there!

Any NEW inputs for ONE NIGHT STANDS or DTF?

Jussssssssssssst curious!

dsouza - January 17, 2018, 3:01 pm

What I've learned about successful ONS from this past years dating:

- 1) It's always easier to sleep with women who start off with high interest in you than creating attraction in someone who doesn't
- 2) I do ONS but not SNL so far. On the first date I like to build connection, chemistry, and conversation. The 3 C's of Dsouza. Once this is built on date one its easier to escalate to sex by date 2 or 3.
- 3) The law of least effort is paramount to success
- 4) Attract , Isolate , Escalate
- 5) M3X

Scottie2Hottie - January 23, 2018, 12:38 am

I've never found high status mones to be an issue in ensuring a ONS. I've had great success with them paired with sexuals. I think the key is your approach. Never underestimate the power of being direct. At one time I was in a low point not having much success with women. I grew frustrated and was like fuck it. One night I was sitting at a bar and this hot chick slides up next to me. We start talking. Shortly, out of frustration, I said "You seem like a nice girl. You probably don't want to talk to me because I just want to fuck". Five minutes later we were on our way to my place. You'd be surprised how many "good girls" will giggle and say OK. This approach works even without Pheromones. Now not every woman will agree to but the chances of her saying no anyway are just as great. Remember ONS is a numbers game. It's all about sorting. This just speeds up the process and you don't waste a lot of time.

Did you ever get really negative reactions from women such as anger from this approach?

Scottie2Hottie - January 23, 2018, 1:42 am

Never got anger or a drink thrown in my face. In many cases they didn't take it seriously, just laugh it off and keep talking to me. Some would just respectfully decline. But no, never any major negative reactions. I think guys are afraid to be direct. Worried about a negative reaction. Many women find it refreshing. You're in a singles bar. Every guy is looking to hook up. Women know this. What they DON'T appreciate is some guy trying to play her. Sorry nice guys but you fall into that category too. Women know you want to fuck but you just play mind games in an effort to manipulate. Women get this. They are pretty savvy. They've heard it all. It takes them all of 30 seconds to size you up. To put you in the lay or nay category.

DrChocolate - January 23, 2018, 1:57 am

I'd like to second Scottie. Results're replicated from me too. And yes, ONS r a numbers game.

Out of about million attempts in me life, only 1 and I mean ONE girl, splashed her red wine on me white shirt. That was a memorable night for sure. Lol.

But the rest of the other girls, would just either brush it off, or just plain cold reject me. Am thankful for them, cos I know I can move on to me next target.

And a few nights, when them girls who rejected me saw me walking out with another girl in me hand, their jaws were dropped.

If one girl doesn't want a ONS, there's another girl in the SAME club that WANTS one. You'll have to be a spam bot to realize it.

Scottie2Hottie - January 23, 2018, 2:13 am

I've only had a drink thrown in my face once and that's because I was being an asshole. I probably deserved it. But it had nothing to do with a pick up.
