Certo

2 sprays, one each side of neck. Repeat after 4 hrs.

Wore Certo at work, nothing much unusual during the though people seem to linger a little bit longer wanting to talk.

Then Pherxgirl (see journal) came by and became very talkative and very reluctant to leave.

It's interesting to see which products work and how on people you know.

May not be a good thing to have people lingering around talking at work, but in a social environment that's a good thing.

So need to try it in that environment.

Pheroman - March 26, 2011, 12:04 am

Wore this product exclusively at work for a week, and it seems to make people smile more and be easier to talk to.

Women seem particularly happy, friendly and smiley.

2 sprays, one each side of neck seems enough for 6-7 hours after which the scent fades and I can smell the mones..

can i use certo scented with alfa maschio scented?

Alpha Dream - April 29, 2011, 11:01 pm

Hi,

You can use them together, but they are meant to be stand-alone products. You may get some weird results if you mix them. I would choose either one or the other to wear based upon the environment and what you are trying to achieve. Alfa maschio is best for raw sexual energy in a bar or club scene, and certo is best for casual time with friends or a long-term lover.

thank you for that info. i heard that using social type pheromones and sexual type pheromones can actually work at its best performance.

Still been using this daily at work and been liking it more.

It's not "I'm the boss" as much as wolf, but more "Everyone likes me, I'm cool".

Women like me and smile, girls get a little starry eyed and I love taking all the luv I can get.

Guys treat me like a long lost buddy. Everybody keeps talking until I end the convo, and that's what I had to get used to using Certo, people will talk for hours unless I end the convo.

Given my dosage one bottle will last for many(4-5?) months.

Sometimes I don't even spray, just pull out the top and dab the little pipe each side of my neck & wrists and spread it. And it still works fine.

Great value.

Pheroman - June 7, 2011, 2:39 pm

Decided to up the dosage to 4 sprays and starting getting a few hits, IOIs and dilated glistening pupils.

Seem to work on the under 30s women.

Had a 19 yr old start talking and slowly getting closer until our arms were touching.

Another around that age came towards me talking and didn't stop until our arms/shoulders touched, lightly bumping into me.

After 30 secs she seemed to realize what was going on and consciously stepped back but still giving IOIs

Got a good hit from a young looking 29yr who just seemed infatuated with me from the first higher dosage and coming back 3 times since. she keeps saying "Cya next week"

Being at work this was interesting, but could be dangerous...

Just would like to tell that i tried like Pheroman, four spray of Certo (After reading Pheromans report). And i think i got about same results.

I got Certo for about a week ago. Tried it with two sprays yesterday and got good social results. Today i tried AM with one spray, but decided after two hours to just go crazy and have four spray of certo on top of AM, with UN for men from Love Potion as cover scent.

I walked to and stood besides a woman who's been working for me for a year, and who knows me rather well. After a few seconds, she suddently looks up and at me with very suprised eyes and without saying anything. She looked at me as if there was something she didnt understand. After that, she kept walking close by me, or getting excuses standing besides me frequently. I once took her sniffing at me. There was a few episodes where she just wouldnt move, and where i had to stand realy close for having any chance getting my job done. After about an hour with this, she starts giving me deep eye contact. It was also obvious that she also got an uplift in mood. She also said that she had such an amazing energy today.

After her shift was over, she came back two times, for getting something she accidently forgot taking with her. And when she came, she had great time for just chatting. I also noticed chances in mood from other women, but not in the same way as my employer, but i didnt stand very close to any other women either. I did not notice anything from men.

Pheroman - July 6, 2011, 11:17 am

Still using this for work daily.

Certo make people listen and pay attention.

They will generally listen as long as you talk, will stay engaged as long as you engage them and will not leave unless you make it clear that you have finished.

I think Certo would be great for sales type jobs, company reps and cold calling.

But if youre the "talk to much" kind of guy, they will never leave and you wont get much done.

You have to end the convos.

PS I have dont have Glace or Corporativo.

misfit101 - July 13, 2011, 12:08 am

Certo is my everyday mix. I like how it feels subtle, like it's part of you and not something you added to yourself. If pheromones are a well taylored suit, certo feels more like a nice tan. It isn't a huge hitter, but it gets tons of smiles and some positive attention. I think it makes people feel like they're talking to a gentleman, and I mean that in the well educated way and not in the royalty way lol.

It also does this without giving a "fatherly vibe" which is a sign that the androsterone in it is well buffered with the nols.

I like it because although it might not get all eyes on me, when they do land on me they land with affection.

Q-Tips - July 16, 2011, 9:52 pm

Had a few weeks now using Certo frequently. I got to say this one is a real getter. I am certain when saying Certo is so far my favour. It goes well for both work, social, dating and club / bar situations.

When going out, i have also mixed Certo with other such as Aqua Vitae, Legend, Voracious and Alter-Ego. Certo havent given me any bad responds that i can see from anyone.

And as a self effect, this one gives me a very confident feeling. Its like i can behave whatever i like and have success with it. If i want to be charming, i will. If i want to be rough, i will. If i want to be funny, i will. Not only because what i say would be so very funny, but also because it looks like the people around me seems get the same effect from Certo as i do.

There is one happening at work who would tell about how Certo works for me. A young couple came in and asked for an icecream i didnt have, so i wanted to offer them something else. While talking to them, they just stood there looking at me in some sort of awe, while they would agree with me in what i said, even tough they would not get what they actually asked for. When talking to them, a female co-worker just stood there looking at me constantly with a sweet smile. I got the feeling she looked at me as if she was proud of me.

I have usually used 3-4 spray of Certo. Some times i have used more than 4, or reapplied more after a while without see any negative effects from that.

dbot - July 16, 2011, 9:56 pm

Man the more I hear about Certo the more I want some. I asked for a sample of it when I ordered Glace; I'm not sure if I'll get one. I hope so! Either way, it's probably a matter of time before I have a bottle in my hands..

Yes, i have it the same way with Glace. I just have to get a new order going. And besides, it looks like i will need another bottle of Certo.

One thing i should mention about the self effect i get from Certo. Its not like some of the socials i tried, and probably i would get from Glace too. Those socials gives me a kind of happy feeling and makes it easier to smile, even for no good reason. But for Certo, i can sit alone and apply it and feel nothing special, as if i get no self effect from it. Then i can walk out to people, and when i interact with them, then i suddently feel that i actually are having an self effect from Certo.

Certo is suppose to be some sort of bonding love pheromone, and that might be, because when interacting with people, i usually have hard see any negative sides with them, i can even stand and smile without faking the smile at the most annoying people. Its like as if i get along with just about anybody. And then we have this confident feeling. One mentioned people look at you as a gentleman. And i agree with that.

SOLD

Pheroman - July 18, 2011, 12:36 pm

7 dabs of Certo smeared on neck and wrists + top of hands.

After being chased by cougars for a couple weeks i got my fav type of hit:

Hot and cute petite and very pretty 20-25yr who just didnt want to go had to literally drag herself away, but not before saying "I'll see you tomorrow" 3 or 4 times after 10 mins of starry eyed chit chat.

I've spoken to her a few times but dont know her that well, but this time she was lassoed by the mones.

What way did you apply aqua vitae and certo for men together did you put certo on your wrist and aqua on your neck how many sprays ect this is a question regarding that you sometimes use certo and aqua vitae together sometimes. what effect happens afterwards when mixed together???

Talk to you soon. what is your secret to applying certo and aqua vitae together how is it done???

what is the result of mixing these two together???

misfit101 - July 19, 2011, 7:22 am

I tried this combination and got good results (I'll try it again tomorrow to test this again):

-2 sprays of certo applied to my wrists and jawline

-1 drop aqua vitae to the front of my neck. Covered with Versace (can't remember which one).

I got lots of smiles from girls, in class people kept asking me to switch seats and sit with them, and a beautiful girl that I talk to at times completely seemed like she was trying to seek validation from me and trying to impress me. All in all pretty good hits.

I wouldnt say it was the biggest difference as if i should have used AV alone. With Certo i got almost the same hits, but this time with big smiles. Maybe a slight improvement from the social specter, but its hard to say, as i was rather chatty of me the times i have used it. Many of them wouldnt have any choice but talk to me anyway.

I usually had AV behind my eares and on my wrists while i spray Certo on my neck. The problem for me is Aqua Vitae. Its a kind of win or loose thing for me. Either i get the doze right and get plenty of hits, or i get it a little wrong and get nothing.

I think one of the reason Kyle mention this is because of the effect of it being intimidating. Or to say, a woman can feel attracted to you, but that can also make her feel shy. And for that, a social such as Glace or Scent of Eros, can be of some help.

In my experience, that would not take away the importance of using the right amount of doze. I do think you still can make an overdose even when you combine it with Scent of Eros.

OD from AV have caused me and probably those being exposed to me an headeach, diziness, too sensitive for stimuli such as alcohol and smoke, feeling of being worn out, hostile or agressivnes. I dont think adding more socials would help me with thos OD.

So yes. To little, and people will not notice it. But dont make a shower with AV. No either is good. But for your own sake, do a little experimenting. Two drops can be good for one person, but maybe three drops is good for you?

Generally as a first test I will be wearing one mix during the day for a whole week and decide from that.

It's possible you are using the wrong technique. With pheromones it's best to start a conversation, and they will take over from there. You have to be close by and wait about 30 seconds for them to start working. Also don't expect to wear pheromones to the supermarket and have women all over you. try going to venues where women are looking to have fun.

Pheromones won't help much if you don't try talking to women at the right time and place.

Alpha Dream will give you a refund if you can't get Certo to work, but I'd recommend following this procedure with the product before you consider returning it:

i use certo regularly, and it never fails.

it helps if ur respectful, and a gentleman, and a romantic at heart. it compliments these attitudes well. it wont hit the girl over the head with sexual vibes, thats where you have to initiate with proper timing, assuming your getting the green light.

it works great with the shy girls, but the fact they are shy means youll have to approach. with a little bit of game, and self confidence, certo should easily create butterflies for them.

it could work for the more sexual, alpha females, but you would have to be the "bad boy" personality. if your not, then certo isnt going to convey that image.

also everyone is different. for me, less works better. i never go over 2 sprays.

another way to tell if mones are working, is to test everybody. males, female, old, young. etc. .. certo makes the guys chummy, like buddies. and older ladies find me endearing without having to say a word. sometimes when your looking for "certain" reactions, u overlook the other obvious ones that dont fit what your looking for.

have fun with it. and if you just cant seem to get the "a haaa" moment, when you know what to look for. then u could always return it.

well for me i wear certo around women that already know me. and yes I'm respectful to both women and men.could my mistake be they already to have me judged ect???

spamz - August 6, 2011, 11:29 pm that could be part of it. there are other factors also, like environment and personality.

ok, when i first used certo at work, the mood just seemed lighter. the guys acted like we were real close, like buddies outside of work. the women werent so much flirty, as there just seemed excited. like happy to see me, big smiles by the end of the day and waves from far away as soon as we would make eye contact. u could mistaken that type of flirting with just uber friendliness.

but, when i would direct conversations in more flirty directions(few days later), is when i would get the hair flips, and the touching, and lingering, because i guess i was confirming what they were feeling. specially the shyer ones.

the girls that flirted before the mones still flirted, but seemed less fun and aloof, and more with an agenda. and when i initiated with the shyer girls they would open up easily, and they even seemed more confident.

and yes, there were some people that i just didnt get any different reactions from. but i didnt focus on those people. i just didnt want to waste my energy on them.

ohh , and when im asked what cologne i wear, i just tell them i dont know, it was a gift, then i start to describe the bottle of certo. usually they throw out names, and ill say, yeah maybe thats it.

Of course they have already judged you, they judged you long ago. And they wont change that very quickly.

Maybe your "respectfulness" is seen as kissing arse and trying really hard to please everyone, sometimes nice people give that impression.

I know that I have given that impression at times, or others seem to think that I'm nice to them just because i want something from them.

Being respctecfull but also confident is the idea, though not always so easy in practice.

As for the guy at work, i would suggest you dont tell anyone about the products your using.

Absolutely nobody.

There's a good chance that your smartass "friend" is going round saying "patches thinks he can spray some shit on himself and pickup chix".

patches345 Wrote:nobody acts different at work ect everyone is the same as if i was wearing nothing.? It depends on the person, but also on the wearer.

I dont know what you do, but to a wearer who isnt much of a "people person" the effects may be very subtle or seem inexistent.

No disrespect, but i spent much of my working life talking to people and gauging their reactions by watching them attentively in sales type environments or business negotiations.

People who work in offices, or trades people may be a little less aware of the body language subtleties.

So there is a huge range of variables on which the effectiveness of these products may depend on.

As for Kyle wateva, forget about any crap an affiliate vendor writes and focus on what you are doing.

And the only person here working for Alpha Dream here is "Alpha Dream".

The best thing to do is start up a journal and document how you are using the products in much detail.

As for suggestions and plenty people here will help you out.

spamz - August 7, 2011, 4:00 am for someone very respectful and gentleman like, you came off kinda condescending and rude for help or advice that you asked for.

i never said women fall over themselves to get in my pants. i said they become nicer, less shy, and their motivations seemed different. u took what i said and totally made me out to be a liar. this tells me alot about u.

i also said days later, after having used certo, or mones in general for a while, that i would then initiate flirty behavior. i think u need to learn patience in general. and i truly am sorry for you, that u just cant seem to see it. how mones work. never did i imply that mones made people do things against their nature. i was giving you example since you couldnt seem to notice subtle Behavior patterns.i was hoping u would take my experiences to help you out. thats why we have journals.

instead of bashing me for what works for me, you could have "respectfully" just said thanx but im not having such luck. and then returned the product. but instead ur true colors shine. u call me a liar, and some peddler for certo. lol... without checking my other posts.

i know in real life, ur the type of person i would ignore. no amount of mones would make me wanna be around u.

Hi patches, i see you are very frustrated about this but calm down.

I think you may have some misconception as to what pheromones can or cannot do.

Tisha wrote a pretty good post on this matter here and in another forum:

Pheroman - August 15, 2011, 12:35 pm

I decided to put some certo in a 1 ml sample vial that had DaD + NA, and had just an incy weeny little bit on the bottom.

Put 7 sprays in it...and voila' Dad scented Certo

And for the curious and tedious 7 sprays is just under 1ml, and a "few dab" of mine are 2 -> 3 sprays.

Using this much has subtle effects and the scent still stays close.

Will keep trying this out though as Im not a big fan of the sandalwood scent.

Time to reorder my Certo.

Been also using Glace which also works well as a social and makes people chatty, but Certo adds a more romantic vibe, but not too sexual, for day/work use.

My 50/50 mix of Certo and Alpha Maschio has also been working well in a social environment.

Yiken, how are Nude Alpha and Scent of Eros performing for you in Asia? I have Scent of Eros and Certo but haven't really tested this combo yet. But curious on how Nude Alpha and Scent of Eros combo working out for you. Thanks.

So I inducted my close friend into the Pheromone club. He ordered Glace and Certo and in addition, received a few samples of AM. I got to smell the new Leather and Steel scent and if I had to compare it to something, it had that similar sweet spicy akuto scent that I love. I normally don't like to use cologne as cover scents (since I use attar oil and oud) but this person right here is going to pick up Certo or the revised AM with that scent.

I would choose either one or the other to wear based upon the environment and what you are trying to achieve. Alfa maschio is best for raw sexual energy in a bar or club scene, and certo is best for casual time with friends or a long-term lover.

Chris, how would you describe the difference between Certo and Glace? Is it that Certo has more of a "bonding/protecting" effect and Glace has more of a "opening/icebreaker/approachability" effect? Is there a difference in the type of comfort these products create in others? A lot of people here like the AM/Glace combo and are big fans of Glace used with other products. In that sense, would you agree that Glace is the most versatile of your male/unisex products or would it be Certo or Corpo? Could you see a Certo/Glace combo or a Certo/Corpo combo working out? If so, what do you think the effects would be and what ratio would you recommend trying out for specific contexts?

For example, would you recommend Glace/Certo at a 2:1 ratio for daygame/cold approach and then Certo/Glace at a 2:1 for a first date? It seems that AM works very well for night game which may be one reason why the AM/Glace combo is so popular here (ie AM gives alpha vibe and Glace is the icebreaker for a woman to allow the sexual tension AM provides to kick in).

Also, do you mind providing some insight into Pheroquirks questions about Certo?

Pheroquirk Wrote:Do you think it will work in a leadership position in a professional environment? Or will the more provider aspects of it risk undermining one's authority?

I think Pheroquirk asks two fascinating questions here. Along these lines, would you recommend a Corpo/Certo combo at something like a 2:1 ratio or would they not mix well? Or would there be no need for Certo at all in the context that Pheroquirk proposes?

As another example, I work in an office which is about 75% women and my boss is a woman. Most of the managers are women and most of the men in the office are more on the beta side. The women in my office tend to be in their 30s-50s and my boss is 40 something and rather high strung. In this context, do you think a Corpo/Certo 1:1 ratio would make sense to try out or is it better just to pick one product over the other and use it as standalone because of mixing problems?

I know these are a lot of questions, but I want to get the best understanding that I can from the source as I put these products into practice. Many thanks in advance for your advice - I'm sure your thoughts here would provide much insight for this community. Despite any recent challenges you may have had, it is a very exciting time for you and your company with your recent releases and highly anticipated upcoming releases. Your contributions and investment of time into this forum are greatly valued. Cheers!

Anyone else using Certo currently? I really enjoyed my experience with Certo last time out with it but it took over an hour before I see the girls warming up to me. Is there an aging period with Certo or other mones? Do I have to apply the mones an hour before leaving the house or is it pretty much spray and go? Plan to try it again hanging out with a good buddy of mine. Thanks for any insight.

I have found it, along with Glace and a few similar products, to be excellent for generally enhancing the mood of things like the Family Holiday/Birthday Party, particularly the above-mentioned effects of putting people at ease and flowing conversation. While I seem to be fortunate that mine seem to be drama & dysfunction-free, a bit extra oomph to helping everyone have a good time doesn't hurt.

CERTO REVIEW

Great job on your certo blend Chris. I use this on my gf and baaam , it hits her hard and she gets very into me and always wants to get close and cuddle me etc.

it is very well balanced and doesn't have any negative self effects on me.

it also seems to draw the females who are after finding their Mr Right. Overall this gets a 5/5 from me and is my favourite alpha dream product.

Alpha Dream - June 6, 2013, 2:11 am

Sorry for the looong delay on this:

Certo and Glace are completely different formulas.

You can generally gauge the scale of sociability / male alpha by looking at the suffix of the chemical names of the compounds a formula contains. While this does not work in every respect, it is a good general guide.

Compounds ending in "N0L" • I.e. alpha/beta-androstenol generally have more social / ice-breaking effects.

Compounds ending in "N0NE" • I.e. androstenone, androstadienone, etc, generally have more alpha male / sexual characteristics.

You will notice when looking at the formula for glace, it is comprised entirely of N0Ls (with the exception of 200 micrograms of androstenone which is a social at this dose), and thus glace is a PURE social.

Certo is basically Alfa Maschio with a lower dose of androstAnone, and to a larger extent androstenone. The theory surround this is that androstenone (in high amounts) tends to irritate the significant other if she is continuously or frequently exposed to it. Therefore certo fits better (in theory and according to reports) for the girlfriend / wife.

Certo + Glace is to the girlfriend / wife as AM + glace is to the pickup. Both work better in concert it seems, just one better than the other in terms of the target.

I think Certo may perhaps be the most underestimated product in our lineup. I certainly think a certo + glace combo could be very useful for everyday use, or use in the daytime. I think Alfa Maschio + Glace or L2K are more useful in the night and for the pickup.

Certo seems to have more comforting qualities than AM would, as the ratio of Androsteneone / AndrostAnone (in AM) is lower in comparison to the ratio of Androstadienone / Alpha-Androstenol (left unchanged) in certo.

I'm not sure about a combo of corpo + certo, but my theory is it would follow the same logic as an AM + Corpo combo, except this time for the wife / girlfriend.

I would recommend a 3:2 ratio of Glace/AM (or perhaps just L2K) for the first date or for nighttime, and a ratio of 3:2 Glace/Certo for use around the girlfriend or during the daytime.

Pheroquirk, sorry that I missed your question:

Certo would be a good formula for the workplace "œ in fact, now that I think about it, it may be almost as good as Corpo is by itself. Certo has plenty of androstadienone in it, but little androstenone. Androstenone (or tons of Alpha-Androstenol) are counterproductive in the workplace "œ Androstenone will ingite some competition or hierarchical disputes / challenges which you best avoid with your boss (especially if she is a woman).

A Certo + Corpo mix might be very interesting in the workplace "œ I'm not sure, as I've not mixed them on myself, plus I'm the boss ; p.. I think a 1:1 or 2:3 or 3:2 ratio might work very well with these two in concert. If anyone gets along to trying this, please let me know how it works out!

Cheers,

Chris @ Alpha

I have used AM+Certo quite a bit together with success both on dates and at bars. I use 1 spray AM to upper chest...where collar opens and 2 sprays Certo to forarms/wrists rubbed together. I apply cover scent in close proximity but not on top of the mones. This has been one of my most successful mixes I must say. Of course, your results may vary. I am 50 years old if that helps. One time a good looking blonde just went crazy at a bar and was giving me head in my car in the parking lot within a little over an hour. Maybe it was being in the right place at the right time. It has worked on 1st dates too. I would reccommend this to anyone to try! Good luck!

(04-20-2015 8:31 AM)haggy Wrote: &nbsp;Is Certo good for someone who wants to find a gf?

That would be the intended purpose, yes.

I tried 1 subtle spray of Certo at work two weeks ago, just to test reactions of my female colleagues. I know nearly all of them are married or have a boyfriend, but I like to tease a little bit.

I noticed the girl that has her desk directly next to my desk (who has been in a relationship for about 10 years) working at my side of the desk a lot more than when I am not using Certo. I see/notice her taking deep breaths through her nose, but very subtly. She does avoid extra eye contact (perhaps because of her boyfriend) but when we talk, she is very calm, smiling a lot and her eyes tend to stick in my direction just that little bit longer than they normally do.

When using of Alfa Maschio, she actually seems a bit intimidated. She works more on my side of the desk than when I am phero-free, but not the deep inhales, as somehow the scent/effect is too strong. She also seems a little bit more "nervous" and humble in conversations. I guess AM can have unwanted intimidating effects on shy/humble girls. Certo seems to make them more relaxed.
