Thread: Looks like I'm in for a hell of a ride

So this is the place where all the mischief happens? Glad to be a part of that. Never used pheromones, not expecting it to look like an AXE commercial or half naked zombies chasing me but a dominant edge. The Mainstream Media hypes some of these products according to some sites, to me that is a sign that those products don't work or is not the most effective. Got a 1 oz bottle from a nature store for $22 on a whim that has it, said don't put too much or it will repel. Not going to spend money so people can be angry. so i'll document that with tempered expectations. Smells pretty good though.

About myself I'm a 5'9 180 lb 25 year old good looking Single White American Male of Cuban ancestry from Northern New Jersey. Slept with a few women mostly in college though. Love to be single as long as I can and looking to make it more enjoyable. Looking for the opportunity for more sexual encounters. In a "perfect world" scenario White women between 21-55. Looking for something that is dominant, social and of course sexual. Reading on the forums seems the Alpha Dream products work pretty well. Glace seems to be off the charts.

Your needed advice will help me and I'll see where this goes.

HEY HEY Run in silence

Glad to have you here buddy.

My experience with glace is that it gives people the green flag to fill your ears with anything and everything. So if you are good at acting interested in people's conversations and are prepared to nod lots and lots, then Glace is for you!. It is preferred that it should be mixed with a more alpha pheromone.

Cheers

Very high doses of it may make girls all bitchy at you and may make her hate you, no matter how nice you are. Depending on her personality she will still be very attracted to you. Funny stuff

It advertises itself as a social pheromone. I generally don't mind hearing people talk, just don't want to disagree with them on something too strongly. On their site it says 3 sprays at a time should last 6 hours. Winter is coming so I don't know how effect it will be around my neck, but seems to be the best target spot since it is the most exposed. Should I put a tiny amount on my clothing?

Ok. Looking for something social, dominant and obviously sexual. Since I'm in a career transition, something to help me ace an interview at a better job. Haven't heard much about their other product Corprotivio though? Still looking around the forum for other reviews for work stuff.

As far as that bottle goes tried it today going to a fair. It is an oil and took 4 small drops 2 on wrists and 2 behind the ears, neck area. Got a few smiles but nothing out of the ordinary. One cute black girl wearing a Capital One hat looked at me kinda hard, but was trying to catch the morning train so couldn't talk. Don't know if I put too much or not enough?

Run in Silence - October 24, 2011, 4:39 am

As far as my lifestyle I go to night clubs about 2x a month would go more but I don't have a money printing press so can't go as much as I want. The stronger socially and sexually the better, once the ice is broken I feel confident I can close the deal. Can't really tell what my strongest pressure point is, will stick with common area such as neck and wrists for now. Maybe later with hair.

SS couldn't have said it better about Glace, You got reps SS

I find with Glace I have to fake being interested in most conversations. I can be in a conversation with glace on for hours and have said words like cool, that's great, hmmm, awww, wow etc. & people will at the end when I tell them i have to leave will be like great conversation.

It's like they are completely blind to the fact that I'm trying to reply with one liners to give them nothing to continue to talk about. I also find I get a lot of touching from people when i wear glace alone while they converse with me as if them touching me will make me actually care or really believe what they are saying.

Can be very weird! It makes people talk like Italians very vocal & animated chatter.

Hey everyone. Haven't been on here in ages, got side tracked with life. That bottle i bought I lost in public transit so I can never say whether it worked or not. Having gained Employment and a reduced stress level is now allowing me to try this Pheromone stuff. Things have settled down now so I can focus on trying this pheromone stuff out. A little tentative of single ingredients for now do not want to become depressed. Again I am a White Cuban 26 year old male and my targets are mainly young black, latin women and older white women. Asians not so much. I went out and purchased the following after some research:

Glance
Corprotivo
Alfo Maschio
Wingman Element X
Wingman Black Label
Wingman X 22 oil

Got the unscented because I feel this may be more effective will cover with perfume though. Got a few questions

1. Where should I spray? I have to wear a shirt and tie at my job Got the back of the ears and neck but dont most people approach from the front? Then again I heard a concern was breathing this stuff in. Would spraying some by my pants be effective?
2. These are synthetic chemicals so I want to use the least possible but have an effect. I want to avoid overdose at all costs, especially with oil. Whats the best way to measure usage with oil?
3. Also have read that a lot of mainstream soaps and deodorants have chemicals that build up in to our pores wash out natural pheromones and stay with us. What are the best natural soaps or non chemical ways to stay clean. Will not be unclean.

All assistance would be appreciated. Glad to be back.

Welcome bro!!!!!! Buckle up.....it's going to get wild

Run in Silence - August 21, 2012, 3:06 pm

Wow this stuff came quick. They both came yesterday. Just need to know which one to try first. I'll try something at work and going out. Just dont want this stuff to stick on my skin for days on end. Anyway I can wipe it off after a long day? How would I know if I needed to reapply?

Run in Silence - August 22, 2012, 3:50 am

Finally set aside the bottles in my room and noticed the Alpha Dream products had a slight oil residue to them. It wasn't leaking but Oily, the Wingman products did not leak at all. Again my concern is measuring the minimal amount to use, not to overdose or freak people out. Can't decide which one to use. Certainly want sexual and will use anywhere. Dont care if at work or not. I will get what I want to get. Will begin to write a journal in other post.

Welcome to the board! I am new too and looking to learn more about mones!

Hurakan - August 22, 2012, 1:43 pm

Hi Runs,

As a half Cuban (Father) and Spaniard decent, I dont need to use very much mones as my drive, charisma and confidence is naturally very high. Glance is a curse for me since I normally can walk up and talk to anyone and have comfortable conversations right off the bat. Glance just makes it worse and drive my wife up the wall.

Cubans usually are very confident and swagger more than most, so I would recomend not to over do the mones too much. I find that L2K and Wolf by far are my favorite, they are smooth and have great self effects. All you need is to get used to being relaxed and be genuine as you run into people, and let the mones just help buffer the usual anti social tendencies we run into on a daily basis.

If your chasing Latin and Black women, from what I read you will need to OD on the mones. However, that will prob make your latin blood boil and you will more than likley come across very cocky. It does for me.

I do know that the wifey loves Turn up the heat, AV and Androstadienone . Its a very powerful combo, brings out the primal Alpha hunter in me big time!

With black women you need to reach OD levels to attract them plus show some swag. Latin women seem to be the opposite as they get hit by pheromones super fast it's actually like pheromones to Latin women are like hard liquor to a person who's never had it before.

They have zero tolorange and get drunk really fast and lose all inhibitions. What's great about Latin women also is that the more pheromones you use they more over the top they behave.

It's like they have no resistance what so ever. I had this one Colombian woman who had to be in her late 20s to early 30s with her baby in her arm and her rich older white husband in the bathroom ask me where have I been her whole entire life and gave me her number.

She was the hottest woman I ever seen to date. She would have left her husband who had a Bentley just for some AV & Androstadienone I think it was.

Run in Silence - August 23, 2012, 2:51 am

Yeah I'm looking to get any type of attractive woman. I prefer White, Black and Latin. Not so much Asian, Jewish or Muslim but wouldn't deny them either. I put on two sprays of the Wingman Pheromones, a couple of looks but not much today. I guess you have to give this some time to adjust to your body and then the hits will come with of course talking and work.
