Thread: Money?

lifeisgood7 - January 22, 2018, 6:17 am

Is there anything out there that you have PERSONALLY used that attracted money to you on a consistent basis?

Subliminals, a YouTube meditation, a product, magic, etc?

Please only post if it 100% worked for you.

Thank you

How has it worked for you? Any specific success stories?

This chick got a job she wanted I gave her a bottle a few days before the offer. It smells delicious.

I just bought like 4 items from them.

Good Fortune Candle
Wishing Candle
Employment Oil
Attraction Oil

I've read a lot of crazy stuff about their love oils!

I have a girlfriend now so I can't really do pick up stuff

Where / what did you read about the oils? I think they work through the metaphysical spiritual realm.

They sell the products on Amazon, you can read the reviews there.

Anyone else have any suggestions on Money techniques that work????

DrChocolate - January 23, 2018, 1:43 am

I've been reading about them too last night and a bit now.

They have a blog.

<https://artoftheroot.com/blogs/news>

Interesting stuff. I love this sorta stuff.

Am thinking of buying the money attraction products from them.

Also, on another level to attract money. That truly worked for me, for the past decade, (and when I mean decade, I mean it won't happen over night)

1. Money frog/money toad/ 3 legged toad-according to Feng Shui, this mythical beautiful creature will bring you abundance and money. She did that to me for sure. (yep, IIRC the money toad is a girl)

Be VERY careful when ya use the money toad, as in which place ya put her in. If ya put her in the wrong place in ur house, the results WILL BE NEGATIVE. I REPEAT THAT, WRONG PLACE = WRONG RESULTS. So do the research first before ya place her in the appropriate place in your house.

2. Laughing Buddha/Laughing god - This statue of a very over nourished laughing Lord Buddha, is in both Buddhism and Feng Shui from what I read.

Again, he's helped me to attract a lot of abundance, and he's amazing for that. And AGAIN, WRONG PLACE = WRONG RESULTS. Just like the money toad, the Laughing God has a specific place in ur living room. Be VERY careful where ya place him.

They both helped me to attract abundance and happiness in general. Yes yes. It IS superstitious and THEY didn't make money fall from the sky. I did the whole work to get where I am. But I TRULY think that they helped.

Hope they'll help you's guys as well.

BigDickBandit420 - January 23, 2018, 4:25 am

Ahhhh yeah, DrChocolate brings up the Feng Shui, Buddha and frogs.

I have a heavy big wood Buddha in my office. I believe it has helped me. It gives me a very good vibe when I touch it. One time when I did magic mushrooms, I touched the Buddha and the good vibe was so strong it's hard to ignore. My friend who did shrooms experienced the Buddha energy too.

Feng Shui completely changes the energy in a room/building, and everything is energy (including money) so I think it is totally worth a try.

MacCauley - January 23, 2018, 1:56 pm

It's not really about money, but since we're on the topic of metaphysics I have couple of talismans I carry with me at all times. One is a cloth I got in Indonesia for physic protection and I can literally feel energy radiating from it. I also have a small rock from Cuba with voodoo powers for attraction. I believe they work, especially the cloth. I've gotten some weird looks by airport security since having these on me.

(01-22-2018 11:25 PM)BigDickBandit420 Wrote: &nbsp;One time when I did magic mushrooms, I touched the Buddha and the good vibe was so strong it's hard to ignore.

I think positive energy is crucial when using psychedelics. I always listen to music when I do them and one time I did mushrooms I had a Judas Priest song on, think it was Hellrider and it took me into a bad place. It was a lot better when I switched songs. I've found that music with a lot of soul enhances the experience.

BigDickBandit420 - January 23, 2018, 2:47 pm

Check out Citrine and Green Quartz theyâ€™re crystals with money drawing metaphysical powers.

Yep. That's her.

The typical place for the money toad is near the entrance of the main/front door. She needs to look INSIDE the house. To show that she's BRINGING money to ya. Be mindful to NOT place her looking outside the house. And she needs to be placed on a stool or table or on something slightly higher than putting her on the floor, to show respect to her.

That's how I've placed mine. good luck.

DrChocolate - February 10, 2018, 9:08 pm

Keep us posted L.I.G.7 REMEMBER,,, she needs to be slightly elevated (on a stool or cabinet) and she needs to look inside the house near the front door.

oh and yeah, just a quick update of the oils. I can feel a massive upbeat as soon as I apply. Kinda like a copulins upbeat. For both "money drawing oil" and "Has no Hanna oil". And the smell is marvelous. Surprisingly, no comments from others about the smell, but I love it. To me it's a nice combination of spicy but sweet smell. I love it.

I have some and the smells are amazing. The attraction one seems to work for me. Things started to fall into place for me.

I've also worn deadly attraction and can't say I saw attraction from it, but it was my favorite smell.

The power of belief can be very powerful.

lifeisgood7 - February 11, 2018, 3:42 am

yes the smells are absolutely amazing

i have employment oil...ive had some amazing jobs interviews with high paying jobs. prior to the oil, i wasnt getting too many call backs. after the oil, its been non-stop calls and emails from potential employers in the exact field i want to get in.

attraction oil, its absurd how good this smells. i get a lot of hits as if i am wearing pheromones. people/women looking at you and people are a tad bit nicer for sure.

BigDickBandit420 - February 11, 2018, 4:14 am

That art of the root sounds like some interesting stuff, but what if you attract something negative instead. It could happen.

I'm still testing subliminals from RS. Haven't seen anything significant yet. Customer service said it can take as short as 2 weeks to 2 months.

You are supposed to focus on what you want to attract. I anointed my credit card, my wallet, some cash, and several other things.

Follow the directions and see. I was worried because I remember the Witches of Eastwick, but they recommend that you read Christian bible verses.

I've been using subliminals too though mine are from a legit website (Indigo mind labs) - shameless plug but I've had extraordinary results with them.

In terms of attraction, I first discovered this stuff (energy and attraction) through using crystals. Whilst these crystals have transformed my life (basically in every way) if I stop utilising them for a day, the energy goes in reverse. So it's a catch 22.

Hence why I opted for the oils. I've also begun to feng shui my room and my life has transformed as a result. I renovated my "fame and reputation area" and my talents are being recognised in overly flattering ways.

This energy work is a curious thing and I'm rather new to it (coming from a normative societal paradigm) but I've already started seeing the shifts enough to recognise the benefits.

Side note: Phero noob here, I OD on phero's today and had the worst effects today. I can lol at the fact that I didn't properly scrub off my yesterdays pheromones so there was a build up. Lesson learned.

Crystals are just energy and energy is useful in attracting/ manifesting whatever you want.

I find good use out of crystals for self healing, they've made me a much more balanced, focused, active and abundant person.

I'd describe my transformation since using them as going up a few levels in life. Having shed alot of old baggage and increasing my vibration.

If you're feeling stuck for whatever reason crystals are good remedy. They're also pretty cheap when you consider the effects they have.

Best to get an experienced crystal user to teach you how to use them. I hired one to give me a few lessons so I can apply the knowledge to my own life. Very easy to use once you have the understanding.

If you can feel their energy then more power to you. It's a very subtle nuance to be able to feel energy and vibrations.

I guess you go big or go home, DrC. Let me ask this: if someone wore pheromones and then hit on some super models with the idea to get them all and that didn't work.....do pheromones still work?

Good luck, man.

OH yeah mate. Go big or go home indeed. Lol.

I agree with ya D. But am looking at it from a different angle. See if that exact person who wore pheromones and hit on that model were to be me, I'd try again till I get her. I'd try different methods, different products. Different combos. AND a bit'a faith.

Same thing to the lottery. I'd keep on trying. I have faith. And just like pheromones work, these spiritual things work too. Of course one needs to DO THE WORK to get it. But I've seen people who DO this work and not get results they want. They're constantly unhappy. I'd suggest them to apply these spiritual things. But they laugh at me. So I'd just brush it off. But I did apply many of these things in the past (not necessarily art of the root, but other things), and that's why I believe I am where I am. Where I wanna be. And just like that, I'll win the lottery too.

Yeah I'll put it out there.

Basically I've been using the fast luck oil and the attraction oils. Both having been getting me some quick wins.

I went to the Casino to play poker last weekend and remembered I had the fast luck oil with me, so I applied to the top of my hands to get "lucky hands". I could feel the warmth emanating after application.

So I sat down and started playing, first hand I got was a Pair of 7's. Flop comes out and there's another 7. So not only do I have a set (an incredibly strong hand in poker) but it's 777. I took that as a good sign. For the next hour I had a crazy run of cards.

Am I surprised by the outcome? Not really. I am familiar with the nature of energy and how it influences a person's results in the world. It is the "law of attraction" but I dislike the phrase just because it's become muddled with people are their poor misunderstanding of it. Energy is just one component of the whole and I've found this art of the root stuff to be a useful tool.

Feng Shui will get long last permanent changes which are stable. Crystals do similar but provide a constant slow burning source of energy. This art of the root is fast and hard but in a limited time frame. Understanding which tool to use for which job is key.

DrChocolate - March 16, 2018, 12:25 am

I'd like to second every word Determined mentioned here.

In me personal life, in the past, I've been applying many of these theories for meself.

Me personally I like to focus ONLY on the things I DO want, and always try to brush off things I DONT want. It's hard, but with practice u get better. I still fail for that matter, but I can DEFO say am better than what I was back then.

Feng Shui IS in fact very prominent. It's a slow process but strong in the long run.

Art if the root seems fast, but gradually weak in the long run.

Understand fully how both of these work and apply accordingly, and u'll win for the rest of ur life.

Right about now, am at a point in me life that I realize that I CAN go all the way to the top of me career slowly. For me I've climbed up the ladder in me field, but as I climb it, I also have a fair bit of stress following me. Believe me when I say that if there's a high risk job in the field, there's a fair bit of me neurons sparking up in me brain constantly. This is where MaxT150 comes in handy. For if ANYTHING goes wrong, am the one who's gotta face the court and the family of the subject. So yeah, it's stressful all right. But we do have high standards of safety.

Feng Shui helped me heaps on many things. I believe in these things. At the moment science can't explain it, but one day it will. Till then everything is Voodoo and Taboo. Which is why am in the middle. I believe that science can logically explain a lot of things. But it's WITHIN the parameters we know as of now. But I also believe that Voodoo and Taboo is true and so is God and many other religions.

Lord Buddha thought us the golden mean. To be in the middle. May be he understood it perfectly.

Determined - March 16, 2018, 1:27 am

Lol, it was actually Aristotle who taught the golden mean.

When I mentioned energy being one component, another is quality of mind. I use subliminals and hypnosis in this regard. Hypnosis is an incredibly useful for focusing on what you want and completely removing what you don't want. Again they're both tools, subliminals provide long term permanent changes to mindsets and hypnosis provides quick (percussive if used in succession) changes.

As a consequence of hypnosis, I have a built in garbage shute in my mind. I can exile any unsavory ideas or people immediately. The correct term for it is "compartmentalisation". So what you describe Dr C need not be a struggle for you anymore.

I think we're in the same field but you're probably much further along than I am. And yes, I also have my eye on the very top.

DrChocolate - March 16, 2018, 1:43 am

Copy that Determined.

Affirmative. Ya need to let it burn all the way out, till it extinguishes itself. That's what I read. And in between the days, ya need to extinguish it with ur fingers. Or a spoon. But NOT blow it out. That's what they reckon.

I can second that part about blowing out a candle. In some Sri Lankan folklore, they say the same. Don't blow a candle. But extinguish it with ur fingers. Or a spoon. The issue with the spoon is that the wick gets stuck in the wax. But when done with fingers, it still stands up.

Hope this helps.

Hypnodaddy requires less listening time though.

Henry_the_turnip - April 1, 2018, 9:21 am

I've always been curious about feng shui but I'm a sceptic at heart (sceptic isn't a non-believer, I will willingly believe, I just need evidence first). For example, I'm a recent believer in pheromone self-effects, yet I'm not 100% convinced it's not the placebo effect in play.

Word of warning here though, if you drive a red european convertible, dousing yourself in Captain beforehand will likely result in loss of licence. I'm curious to hear if anyone has used pheromones to get out of a ticket? I would post a thread about that but apparently I'm too new and don't have that kind of thread-starting priviliges.

Anyway, I read this thread, got curious, and now I'm looking to get a money toad and a plinth for said creature to welcome my guests, facing inward just inside the front door. Big question!

Craftsmen/women subconsciously imbue their creations with their own attitudes during the process. I'm a designer by trade, and my designs are usually influenced consciously by the needs of the client, and unconsciously by what I as the creator am affected by at any one time. My concern is the efficacy of a money toad that is made by someone who just wants to make money, like the mass-produced cheapies on eBay. Is that a good thing or a bad thing? Plus, would buying a cheap mass-produced one off eBay be more effective in attracting wealth because I'm more thrifty in getting a cheap one, or would paying lots for a hand-crafted one in a more expensive material get better results because it's higher quality and more care has been taken in it's creation?

DrChocolate - April 1, 2018, 12:46 pm

For the speeding ticket check this thread out

<https://pherotruth.com/Thread-Wolf-No-more-speeding-tickets?>

As for the quality of the Money Frog, I actually thought the EXACT same thing. If it's low quality, would it help me to get wealthy? What I strongly BELIEVE is that Feng Shui is more of an energy accumulation. And to accumulate that positive energy and balance the negative one, there's a representation of many objects for many corners and edges around the house.

To make meself more sure about this, I asked about it from a Feng Shui Master, he said that what matters is that sign. It could be even a picture of the money frog facing inwards of the house. It still works. And it can in fact be ur own unique drawn picture that YOU created of the 3 legged money frog. It's unique to YOU. I reckon that's more powerful. So the quality doesn't really matter.

leeroy117 - April 4, 2018, 2:56 am

DarkLord1 - April 17, 2018, 8:35 pm

As mentioned earlier, I play with the oils and candles. Doing them both together works better for me.

I had someone call and give me an account the last time I used the candle/oil combo. They basically gave me an extra 2-3K per month. Free and clear, no split.

Is the business owner a pain in the ass? Yes, he is, but for some reason (pheromones maybe and my social skills): he seems to like me better than other reps. I've sold him another product and now will manage him on this product too. He tells the other reps they should be more like me. Socials sold him and Alphas keep him respectful and mostly compliant. He still has his days.

I will tell you that NO ONE GIVES accounts away. Typically, they will offer to split an account with you that they sold, if you service it for them.

I used the wealthy ways and attraction oils on the candle. Prayer. Wrote out my desire for more money in the wax with a tooth pick.....The difference is that I stopped blowing it out (saw someone post about that).

I either use a spoon or my fingers to put out the flame. I also got smaller candles so that I could burn them down more fully.

DrChocolate - April 17, 2018, 10:52 pm

I'd like to second D-Lord.

These "STATUES" work for me too. The "art of the root" work for me too. "Feng Shui" work for me too. BUT,,, like I mentioned before, nothing will happen if ya sit ur butt on a chair in front of ur TV.

So just a quick update. I bought a money frog and placed a red ribbon underneath, placed it in front of my front door entrance facing into my home. I began to use the Money attraction oil and success oil. Been using these since March of this year.

Today I got a 12k merit raise and 2 days ago i received an offer letter from my dream job which will pay me 65k a year for about 25hrs a week of work. So in about a week I increased my annual income by 77k.

I'm not sure if its just a coincidence or the frog and oils doing their magic! But I welcome this blessing. The thing is that I have not changed my thoughts or actions in anyway. These blessings "just happened".

I do not want to say they were lying because I had fantastic results with their super alpha male. I just feel that subliminal audio for attracting money does not work for everyone. Which is why I was looking for other ways to help me increase my income to help me have a better quality of life. I have not tried their paid version to attract money, I purchased their paid version of super alpha male. I used to listen to their youtube channel till they were taken down. I don't like the new background sound they are using for i am wealth. I just can't stand it. It may work, but its like using a powerful oil or pheromones that smell like crap.

Exactly as stated. According to most mystic philosophies, Thelema being a great example, as well as the premise behind sympathetic magick, the ritual concentration, focusing of energies, and going through the physical motions helps to change oneself to better accommodate the success of the goal, as well as to 'practice' the steps to achieve the goal.

We are truly changing ourselves, but our universe is is merely our perception of outside stimuli filtered through the lens of ourselves. So, in essence, if we focus and change ourselves, we change our reality.

I'm all about success and making money, but I'd like to have some understanding of how these things could potentially work, or else risk being a guy who will fall for anything. Pheromones make sense to me because they have some scientific/logical backing.

Things like the money frog, especially, strike me as snake oil. The only thing I can come up with is that when you look at it you are reminded of your goal to make money and then act on it. And this counts for allot! Placebo works. But I do not think putting a toad in your house is going to tell the universe to bring you money. Also things like putting voodoo/magic spells on objects so they attract you money...what is this all about? Seems crazy. Why is some dude gonna be able to put some voodoo magic on something and then it brings you money? Seems like its falling for BS and throwing all reason away.

Crystals are nice to look at and contain energy just like every other object under the sun, but who says they bring you success/money? What is the rationale behind it? Most people I've heard say they do just because they do and thats it. I can say putting some nice sand and seashells on your desk will bring you money.

I can see how maybe some of these oils can work because you smell them and (like the money frog) act as a reminder for you to take action. Or maybe they make people more drawn to you and that can help like mones. The olfactory stuff makes more sense to me then the rest.

I guess the things I have the most issue with is objects and magical things that are supposed to bring you money. Seems off. I don't want to be so cynical of the metaphysical because I think it would be foolish to believe I know how everything in this great mystery of a Universe works, but I also don't want to be the guy who falls for anything, because that is a real risk as well.

I cannot speak for Snoopyace, but for me, of course i have regrets; but I would not say a large amount of regret.

It isn't so much what I've done, but what I have not done. Likewise, if my youth had been tempered by the knowledge and harmony that I currently possess, my life would have been better balanced. Just because you see successful guys like Snoopy on here (well, read not actually see) does not mean that they do not feel like they can be, or could have done, better.

As the cosmos has a killer sense of irony, true satisfaction in life seemingly only comes from never being satisfied with the quality of one's life. It took me forever to fully comprehend that we live from the inside outwards, not that the external forces define us. It is that balance of the Id, the Gladen, and the Super-Gladen (

So yeah, I could have manufactured a much better reality for myself. I should have chased enlightenment in lieu of the shiny objects that so captivated me in my youth. More so than that, I should never have ever taken myself so seriously...when I do things turn out dismal; when I just relax and have fun, the universe smiles on my with its tongue firmly implanted in its cheek.

I've been listening to a subliminal to help with finances, which I can say it has been helping, but of course it's not everyones cup of tea. Manage your budget, be disciplined, learn to say no and not make compromises about your spending, and always learn to do things for yourself instead of paying someone else (if you can) and buy everything secondhand or at least look on craigslist / Offer-Up / at goodwill first before you make any big decisions.
